Interior designing is a career for those who are passionate about designing beautiful and fascinating spaces that make living or working more vibrant and comfortable.

While creating a design, an interior designer has to stay updated about the building plan, safety issues, global trends, client's needs and preferences, local culture and much more.

In today's date becoming an interior designer with no academic backing may make the career path ahead very difficult. iLEAD in collaboration with ESEDS School of Design conducts a sustainable degree course in interior design that provides students with training that is required to understand the business and environmental needs. Our course would give you the theoretical knowledge along with hands on practical experience during the span of the program.

ESEDS and iLEAD can be regarded as one of the best fashion designing colleges in Kolkata for the following reasons –

- It is regarded as India's first sustainable design institute in Kolkata.
- In 2016, it got recognized as a leading global sustainable design institute.
- ESEDS is also regarded as one of the top 58 design schools worldwide.
- The school has international collaborations with University for the Creative Arts (UK), Arts University (Bournemouth), Ethical Fashion Forum (UK).

Why INTERIOR DESIGN industry?

Furniture market of India is worth around $8 billion – 40% of it represents kitchens and plus associated fittings.
